

Privacy Policy

Written by Webmaster

Monday, 01 December 2008

General Policies

The Stow Minutemen Company maintains this web site to provide information about the Stow Minutemen, their purpose and intent, and is committed to ensuring your privacy while you visit the site.

The Stow Minutemen website also connects you to other sites that support 18th Century reenactment topics. This privacy statement only covers the main Stow Minutemen website, not sites that may be linked or referenced in this site. Each organization may have a different privacy statement, so you should review each privacy statement each time you submit personal information on a web site.

When you visit this web site, our web server automatically collects a limited amount of standard information essential to the operation and evaluation of the Stow Minutemen web site. This information includes:

- the page from which you arrived,
- the date and time of your page request,
- the IP address your computer is using to receive information,
- the type and version of your browser, and
- the name and size of the file you request.

This information helps us assess our information services and is used only for this purpose. This information is not used to identify individuals who come to the web site. None of this information is disclosed to other organizations or individuals.

General Content

The only information collected that is used to identify you is information you give voluntarily. When you post a question or comment, you may be asked for your name, e-mail address, or other information.

This information is only used to process and respond to your question or comment, or to provide the e-mail update service. This information is not disclosed except to authorized personnel who need it to answer your question or who manage the e-mail update list.

The personal information you submit is secure once it reaches our server. In transit between your computer and the server, however, it may not be secure. If you would prefer to raise a comment or question in person, please contact the Stow Minutemen via the postal service.

Members Content

Member accounts are created by request in person to the webmaster and is only open to members of the Stow Minutemen. Information collected and maintained may include name, e-mail address, mailing address, or other personal information. Members are allowed to update this information via the website, but it is otherwise not disseminated online in any other way.

The Stow Minutemen will not rent, sell, or share personal information with any other persons or companies unless or under subpoena, court order, or similar legal process.

Cookies

This web site uses cookies so you can customize your online experience. Cookies are small text files that web pages place in your computer to assist you when you return to the page. If you wish, you may change your settings on your web browser to deny cookies or to warn you when cookies will be deposited.

More Information

For more information about any of the policies described above, please contact:

The Stow Minutemen

P.O. Box 174

Stow, MA 01775

webmaster@stowminutemen.org

Last updated (Sunday, 10 April 2011)